FRANCE HINTS ARMY SHAKEUP 50,000 Warplanes Asked For U. S. Forces

DEFENSE NEEDS TOLD CONGRESS

$1,182,000,000 Program
Of Preparedness Is Outlined By President

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — President Roosevelt today proposed to Congress a $1,182,000,000 emergency national defense program and called for 50,000 military and naval airplanes to meet the threat of modern war.

The combined air strength of the army and navy now is 5,563 planes. He proposed to put national defense manufacturing on a 24-hour basis. The emergency summons of his message was couched in urgent phrases.

Mr. Roosevelt delivered his national defense message in person before a joint session of congress, called on barely 12 hours notice.

He warned that our shores—even great mid-western cities such as St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha—no longer are days, weeks or months away from potential attack, but are within hours and minutes of places which conceivably could become bases for air war.

The message asked:

1. Immediate appropriation of $896,000,000 (M) for armament.

2. Authorization for the making of future contract obligations aggregating $286,000,000 (M).

Together with the $2,000,000,000 already asked from this congress for defense, this would make the total $3,182,000,000. Still more requests are likely before congress goes home.

The president did not say how soon the 50,000 plane air armada should be ready, nor what part of the funds and authorizations sought today would be earmarked for air-power. But it appeared that the United States was about to challenge Germany for world leadership in the air.

It was understood the army planned to use big sums now for pilot training; that most of the new planes would come later.

"Uneasy Rests the Head . . ."

Patricia Duggan (right) runner-up in the perfect baby contest at Methodist Hospital, New York, seems perplexed as to why prize-winner Rose Bloise, 6 months, is crying. After all, wasn't she judged the perfect baby, or was it supposed to be the perfect cry baby. Or, perhaps baby Rose doesn't want her picture taken.

ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM ASKED OF HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

Committee Is Appointed To Ascertain Probable
Cost In Event Suggestion Is Approved;
State Pays All, Proponents Of Plan Report

A committee has been named by the governing board of the high school to ascertain the probable costs associated with the proposed institution of an adult education program in the form of a night school at the county high school plant.

The inquiry is being made by Principal B. E. Larson and Vice-Principal M. E. Wright, whom the board designated as a committee at its meeting Monday night at which petitions were presented bearing a total of 146 signatures of persons who desired classes in one or more of five suggested subjects. These are, public speaking (42 petitions); dramatics (21 petitions); arts and crafts (36 petitions); men's glee club (27 petitions); and women's glee club (20 petitions).

The project, according to Russell Meinert, of Route 2, Box 222, Placerville, is sponsored by the Friendly Home Builders Club, of Placerville.

Mr. Meinert reports that funds to finance the program will be supplied by the state except that salaries for the first year must be paid by the school district or other sponsoring group. At the end of the year, he states, based on the average daily attendance, an apportionment is made on the first year's operation, and thereafter state funds support the undertaking.

Mr. Meinert, who stated he had been enrolled in similar classes at Folsom, declares that it is the experience in several locations that a net profit accrues to the school district or other sponsoring group in the operation of the adult education program.

Driver License Examiner in City On Monday

The Placerville office of the California Highway Patrol calls attention to a departure in the regular schedule of E. H. Garfield, driver's license examiner, who has been visiting Placerville regularly for several months past on Monday and Tuesday of each week.

For the coming week only, Mr. Garfield will be here Monday but will not be here Tuesday.

Some of the features of the proposed program are stated in the following excerpts from a letter by George C. Mann, chief of the division of adult education of the state school department, answering inquiries of those most active in proposing the program:

"The state apportions money to the district on the basis of the average daily attendance in each (night) school district. About $85 per unit of attendance is apportioned. Twenty hours of attendance each week for the full school term constitutes a unit of attendance. In other words, if four students attend five hours a week each, that will be one unit of attendance."

"In addition to the apportionment on the basis of average daily attendance, a bonus apportionment of $120 per unit for the first ten units and $90 per unit for the second ten units and $60 per unit for the third ten units is apportioned. If a school has a full thirty units of average daily attendance the district will receive $2,700 in addition to the regular apportionment for average daily attendance. In the small school districts, the state money will usually bear the full cost of instruction. In the larger cities, some local district money is usually necessary to cover the full cost."

"Any classes in Americanization, social-civic subjects, regular high school subjects, homemaking and parent education can be offered. Forum classes can be offered if the forum subjects are previously approved."

"There may or may not be a connection between the night school and the regular high school."

SOLONS OPPOSE NEW TAXES

Legislators Meeting In
Two Sessions With Third
Call In Prospect

SACRAMENTO (UP) — The joint legislative committee on relief met with Gov. Culbert Olson at noon today to present a proposal calling for integration of relief activities, including administration by the counties.

In the event the committee and the governor fail to reach a compromise, Sen. John Phillips, chairman, said the committee will present a new appropriation bill filled with the rigid restrictions including the present law, and incorporating new ones, with the idea of ending the special session within two weeks.

Phillips said relief probably would require $32,000,000 for the 13 months remaining in the biennium after June 1. Olson maintains a minimum of $50,000,000 is essential.

By A. G. THURMAN

As we meet this week we find ourselves conducting two special sessions each day, the regular unfinished special session and a new second session called this week by Governor Olson for flood relief legislation. We now understand that the governor intends to call a third special session for the consideration of another matter not contained in the agenda of the other (Continued on Page Three)

RESTORED ROAD FUNDS URGED

Commerce Chamber Asks
Members Of Congress To Support Cartwright Bill

The regular meeting of the County Chamber of Commerce for May will be held Monday night at Hotel Raffles with a variety of interesting matters to be presented, reviewed and discussed.

The Chamber of Commerce directors, on the recommendation of the highway committee, during the week telegraphed Senators Johnson and Downey and Congressman Englebright, urging their support of a move for restoration of funds for federal aid highways to the pre-1937 level.

The committee reported that in that year, federal highway aid was reduced from $14,000,000 to $9,000,000 per biennium and restoration of the earlier appropriation is sought.

The directors of the chamber felt that the organization could reasonably support the Cartwright bill, which is the measure concerned, in view of the need for continuing improvement of U. S. Route 50 through El Dorado Forest, and the hopes for some further progress in that work.

Secretary Wallace M. Ripley will report Monday night on the chamber's recent participation in the seventh annual Outing Show at Los Angeles.

The chamber's highway committee is said to be prepared to make a report of special interest, and the report of the publicity committee which includes several branches of promotional work in which the chamber of commerce is engaged, will be of particular concern.

NAZIS PIERCE MAGINOT LINE

Allies May Have To Change
"Methods And Men" Says
Premier Paul Reynaud

By UNITED PRESS

Germany's mechanized armies stabbed through Allied defense lines on the Meuse river front today and forced Great Britain and France to consider a change in "methods and men" to meet the Nazi offensive.

The greatest point of danger to the Allies appeared to center on the Belgian front between Namur and Sedan.

Progress of this thrust was uncertain, but Berlin reported new successes in the region southwest of Namur and the semi-official French radio agency said that German units in that sector were trying to win a foothold behind the Allied lines. In Paris, Premier Paul Reynaud admitted that the Allies might have to change both leaders and methods to stop the Germans.

That the Allies were fighting back was emphasized by both German and French advices.

The success of the Germans in forcing the Allied defense to adopt a "war of movement" in south Belgium and along the Meuse in France coincided with a new Nazi offensive in the diplomatic field to continue the "war of nerves" by arousing fears that the conflict would spread to other countries.

Fresh alarms sounded through southeast Europe.

The Swiss were mobilized to the last man. They had 600,000 men in arms and were as well prepared as their resources would permit. Every sort of rumor circulated.

London expected an Italian move shortly. President Roosevelt indicated American concern over such a possibility by sending a post-midnight communication to Premier Benito Mussolini—an appeal to keep the peace.

The allied Mediterranean fleet is steaming that inland sea, its whereabouts a military secret and its purpose allegedly the carrying out of "Maneuvers."

Americans in Italy—An estimated 20,000 are there now—were rushing to get passage home. U. S. diplomats throughout southeastern Europe were urging American citizens to get out.

Soviet Russia, through the newspapers Izvestia and Pravda, issued a blast at the allies and predicted that war shortly would be extended to the balkans and the Mediterranean.

School Track Meet May 21

Postponed Feature Of Annual Picnic Will Be Held At Bennett Park

This is according to word sent the teachers of county schools during the week by County Superintendent K. W. McCoy.

Mr. McCoy suggested that the schools which participate keep a minimum day and plan to have their participants at the park in time to start the program of events not later than 2:30 o'clock.

The competition will be chiefly in the nature of races and other track and field sports, owing to the necessity of completing the meet during the late afternoon.

"SCANDALS" BEAUTIES AT WORK

As a reminder of the vacation fun in store for motorists, Marie Frye (on ladder) and Vera Shea, both of George White's Scandals, lent a hand in helping to refurbish San Francisco's Treasure Island for the 1939 Fair. They cruised the island in a 1940 Dodge Luxury Liner similar to the popular models on display at the showrooms of Dodge dealer here.

Jane Hall, girl detective, is summoned to the home of Emery Harding on Skeleton Island, off the coast of Maine, to guard his daughter Audrey, whose life has been threatened in a letter, typewritten in red, demanding that Harding relinquish a valuable ruby he bought from an old sea captain, Albert Santrey. He also sends for his friend, Bruce Kirby, young museum curator. Shortly afterward, Santrey is murdered on the beach—killed by a deadly snake's venom injected with a hypodermic needle. Then one of the servants is murdered. Among the guests in the house is Dr. Herman Toler, snake specialist, who says that he brought a tube of the venom with him for experimental purposes and that it has been stolen. He suddenly accuses Dr. Straater, Harding's physician, also a guest in the house, of having phoned him to ask if he was going to bring some of the venom to the island.

CHAPTER XVIII

DR STRAATER turned upon the herpetologist, with a bellow of fury, and lunged at him. Kirby leaped forward and pinioned Straater's arms to his sides.

"You lie!" shouted the doctor, red with rage. "You lie! You know I never called you! You know I never even knew you until I met you here when you arrived yesterday."

"That is true, Herr Doktor," replied Toler. "You never knew me before yesterday. But that was why I was so surprised that you should telephone me. For you did telephone me—a few days ago. And you asked me quite definitely if I were bringing venom up here!"

Dr. Straater gurgled like a madman, ripped his right arm out of Kirby's grip, and swung insanely at Toler, who cowered out of range in sudden fear. Frenziedly, Straater struggled with Kirby to release himself.

Jane suddenly yanked out her revolver. She leveled it at Straater. "Come out of that, Doctor, or I'll shoot!"

STRAATER took one look at the 22 and leaped at Jane, hurling Kirby aside.

"You fool," he snarled, grabbing the gun and throwing it to the floor.

He raised his hand as though to slap Jane. Simultaneously, Kirby grabbed his shoulder and spun him around. Kirby's fist swung up, and landed squarely on the point of the doctor's chin.

The speed of the jab careened Straater into a chair, where he wilted, panting for breath. He rubbed the end of his chin dazedly, shaking his head to cast off the lethargy that the blow had caused.

Kirby towered over him. "I'd like to whale the tar out of you—trying to strike a woman!" His voice was scold, and his eyes blazed.

"Let him alone, Bruce," said Jane, smiling. "It was all my fault. I shouldn't have pulled the gun on him."

"I'm glad you realize that," Kirby said.

"Here, here!" exclaimed Emery

Harding, coming into the hall "What's all the rumpus?" "Get back into the living room!" barked Kirby. "And stay there! And don't let any of the others come out, either!"

HARDING looked dumbfounded at this vociferous command but he scurried back into the living room, glancing over his shoulder apprehensively. The door closed behind him.

Dr. Straater drew a deep breath. "I apologize, Miss Hall, I lost my head."

"I'll say you did," remarked Kirby scathingly.

"But not without cause," flared Straater. "I don't like being accused of a lie! And I don't like having a revolver pointed at me!"

"It is no lie, Herr Kirby," persisted Dr. Toler. "He phoned me and asked me about the venom."

Dr. Straater gritted his teeth but controlled himself.

"When?" he asked.

"Wednesday morning."

"Do you know the exact time?" Toler nodded. "I think I can remember."

"Wednesday morning—at ten-thirty or thereabouts."

"Ah," leered Dr. Straater. "That makes you out a liar, Dr. Toler! For at ten-thirty on Wednesday morning, I was operating at the Northcliffe Hospital in New York City. And, for the benefit of your rash lady detective, Mr. Kirby that alibi can be thoroughly checked."

"What difference does that make?" said Dr. Toler. "I say ten-thirty. But I do not know exactly. It may have been earlier. It may have been later. But you called and asked me what I have already told."

"You change your story easily," said Straater.

"WAIT a minute," Kirby ventured. "You say Straater called, Dr. Toler. Did he give his name?"

"Yes—Dr. Doremus Straater."

"Now that you know him personally, do you recognize his voice as the one that spoke to you?"

"Unmistakably! Ja, it is the same."

"It boils down," said Jane dryly, "to taking either one of their stories. And I don't believe either of them. Dr. Toler has a weak excuse for bringing lethal snake venom on a week-end party. And Dr. Straater is too prone to get excited about his innocence."

Dr. Straater's eyes narrowed as they surveyed her. Toler just shrugged.

"Kirby!"

Bitherbee had suddenly shot out of the living room, with Harding behind him. Kirby tensed. "Yes?" he snapped.

"At the window," cried Bitherbee. "A face!"

"A face?" said Kirby. "What do you mean?"

"Someone was watching through the window," babbled Harding. "I was playing a hand, when I looked up and happened to glance past Madame LeRoux. Someone was staring at me! I couldn't see who it was, but the eyes... Lord, they..."

"Jane," snapped Kirby. "Stand by Audrey! She's the one who's been threatened. Take your gun!"

"Right."

"You men," said Kirby, "come along! We'll search the grounds."

Wilhelm Free To Visit Germany

Wood-Chopper Of Doorn Once Declined Dutch Offer Of Safe Conduct

BERLIN, (UP)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm, as a German citizen, is free to return to Germany from his exile in Holland if he desires, even without asking permission of Adolf Hitler, a Nazi informant said today.

The spokesman said that the Dutch government had offered to conduct the former Kaiser from his exile-estate at Doorn to a safer place when the Germans approached, but that he replied he would remain to meet his destiny.

Wilhelm was still at Doorn and was expected to remain there, the informant said.

"The former Kaiser is now, naturally, safe," the informant said. "There has been fighting near Doorn but not in the city itself."

"The former Kaiser is a German citizen and possesses large estates in Germany to which he is welcome to return at any time he wishes. The German government has not contacted him, for his freedom of movement has never been in question."

COLOMA DREDGE WORKER REPORTED AS SUICIDE AT CARSON CITY

A coroner's jury at Carson City, Nevada, concluded that Garland Andrus, 22, whose body was found in an auto court in the Nevada capital last Friday, died of a gunshot wound inflicted with suicidal intent. Andrus had been employed on a gold dredger at Coloma and, it is reported, worked on Thursday of last week and was expected to be at work on Friday, but failed to appear.

The body was sent to Marysville for funeral services and interment and Andrus is survived by his mother, Mrs. M. F. Andrus, of that place.

This young man had many friends at Coloma, and in Placerville, too, where he was interested in aviation. What motive may have prompted his suicide has not been determined.

BIRTHSTONES

Emerald for the Month of May

Burger Knows Gems . . .

May birthstone, is the dark green variety of the mineral BERYL hard, but brittle. Although huge beryl crystals in various colors (and colorless) have been found, the Emeralds green, the flawless of good color are extremely rare—finest today from Colombia, S. A.—Russia also produced some fine ones, many owned by the Czars—Cleopatra owned an emerald mine, Egypt. Emerald is the emblem of love and immortality and was used to prevent eye trouble. "Spanish Emerald" is glass imitation.

Blossom Time Is Cabriolet Time

It's hard to realize, in the midst of such weather as much of the country has been experiencing, that scenes like the above are just around the corner, chronologically speaking. Experience and the weather man, however, both assert that they are. As a matter of fact, the blooms in the photo are almond blossoms, the locale California, and the car Chevrolet's new cabriolet with vacuum-operated top, controlled from the dash.

NEW TAXES OPPOSED BY LEGISLATORS SAY ASSEMBLYMAN

In order to facilitate matters the legislature meets in special second extra-ordinary session in the mornings and in the afternoons we meet in regular extra-ordinary session. So your legislature is conducting two sessions each day. However, there is little confusion as the two special sessions in one have been well organized.

The most important matter which will come up for consideration during the present special session will be of course, be the matter of another relief appropriation. The fact-finding relief committee has filed a part of its lengthy report and will file the balance of the report later this week.

A majority of the legislators appear to favor returning the administration of relief to the counties, with the state furnishing the funds. This was recommended by the special committee referred to above. This committee believes that the cost of administration of relief by the counties would not exceed 15 per cent as compared with 25 per cent and more under state administration.

It is too early to predict what action will be taken on the various revenue bills sponsored by the administration but I can say that the majority of the legislators are opposed to increased taxes of any kind.

The present session will probably last two or three weeks.

Former CCC Enrollee Discharged, Sent Home

Franklin Siffritt, former CCC enrollee whom authorities jailed recently on charges of rape, has been dishonorably discharged from the CCC and returned to his home in Ohio.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon reported that if Siffritt had been cited as a delinquent in the juvenile court, he might have been committed to Preston and would have been sent home from there at the first opportunity.

RUTH COMFORT MITCHELL PLACERVILLE SPEAKER ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Sanborn Young whom the reading public knows better by the pen name of Ruth Comfort Mitchell, was here from Los Gatos Wednesday as the speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Soroptomist Club, at Hotel Raffles.

The speaker took as her topic the migrant situation in California, and her remarks held much of interest for the more than fifty women who had gathered to greet her and hear her talk.

Visiting club members were present from Stockton and also from Sacramento and a number of women interested in club and civic affairs in El Dorado County who are not Soroptomists took advantage of the opportunity to attend. Mrs. Rita May, newly named president, was in charge.

Club officers announce that the visit of Mrs. Lawson, scheduled for next week, has been cancelled for the present and the engagement probably will be renewed in the fall.

Mrs. Relinda Ellis Is Summoned By Death

Word has been received from Hamlin, N. Y., of the death of Mrs. Relinda Ellis, mother of L. L. Ellis of this city. Mrs. Ellis, who would have been 94 years old in August, has been an invalid for the past eight years. She lived in Placerville with her son a number of years ago and had many friends in this vicinity.

L. D. S. CHURCH ESTABLISHES BRANCH IN PLACERVILLE; OFFICERS NAMED

Following a conference of missionaries, other leaders and members of the L. D. S. church in the El Dorado district, held Monday at the Shakespeare Clubhouse, the departments of the church in Placerville which had been functioning independently for the past year, were constituted as an official branch of the church organization under the leadership of church officers having headquarters at Sacramento.

The conference was presided over by Everett M. Wray, district president, and had as distinguished members of the church in attendance Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Widstoe, of Salt Lake City, and Mr. and Mrs. Aird Macdonald, of Los Angeles. Dr. Widstoe is one of the twelve apostles of the Mormon church. Mr. Macdonald is the head of the California mission of the church and Mrs. Macdonald is the head of the women's relief societies of the church in the California mission.

Clyde Curtis was chosen president of the Placerville branch; Leo Cheney, first counselor, and John Fox, second counselor. Jeffery Harper was named an elder.

Following the completion of the organization, the conference was addressed by Dr. Widstoe. Mr. Macdonald, Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. Widstoe, the latter being a granddaughter of Brigham Young. The four were here as a part of their tour of inspection of the California mission of the church.

Eagles Auxiliary Names Officers For Term

Mrs. Mary Merryman was elected president of Placerville Eagles Auxiliary at the regular meeting Monday night. Other officers elected are Laverne Shepherd, vice-president; Mabel Johnson, chaplain; Marie Orelli, secretary; Dorothy Parnell, treasurer; Wanda Walker, inside guard and Ruth McGriff, outside guard.

One new application for membership was approved. Following the meeting the Eagles were hosts for a program and social occasion honoring Mrs. Rachel Walker as the oldest mother present and Mrs. E. Lewis as the youngest mother. Each was presented with a bouquet.

There will be a 6:30 potluck supper before the next meeting, on May 27, which will mark the organization's anniversary night and Mrs. Nora Gray is chairman of the committee in charge. Oak Park, Folsom and Roseville units have been invited to share in the meeting.

HAZEL DAVEY, J. N. THILL WED EARLY THURSDAY AT MINDEN

Minden, Nevada, at three o'clock this (Thursday) morning, was the time and place of the marriage of Hazel Davey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davey, of Garden Valley, and J. N. Thill, of the Cannon Chevrolet agency staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Thill, who will be at home to their friends after a few days in the Coloma Street apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wudell, had returned to Placerville by mid-morning to receive the good wishes of their many friends.

Mrs. Thill will continue her work at the Robinson Pharmacy where, it is reported, there seems to be some evidence that she will soon not be the only "Mrs." on duty.

To Mr. and Mrs. Thill, and others in due course, our good wishes.

City Taxes Delinquent On Monday, May 13th

The second installment of city taxes became delinquent on Monday, 13th. City Clerk Harold W. Duden reports that it will be a day or so yet before any report on the percentage of delinquency may be given.

RED CROSS WILL RECEIVE CASH FOR RELIEF IN WAR AREA

Officers of El Dorado Chapter of the Red Cross met Wednesday to consider a request from district headquarters that the chapter raise $400 as its quota for Red Cross relief work in Belgium and Holland.

The officers authorized an immediate payment of $150 from the chapter funds and announced that no concerted campaign will be undertaken but that such contributions as may be offered will be accepted and will be remitted in full. Offerings may be delivered to Bank of America, Placerville, and designated in accordance with the wishes of the giver to any one of the above three countries.

The directors felt that to indulge in a comprehensive campaign at this time would be inadvisable on account of the uncertainty of events. Germany, Italy, Japanese, and Russian Red Cross headquarters have declined any contributions from this country.

Native Daughters Greet Deputy President

Miss Ruth Lyon, district deputy grand president, paid her official visit to Marguerite Parlor No. 12, N. D. G. W., at the meeting of the parlor on Wednesday evening. Distinguished members in attendance included Mrs. Nora Gray, grand outside sentinel.

The entertainment program included an exhibition drill by the uniformed drill team of El Dorado unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Delegates to the Grand Parlor of the order, at Oakland in June, include Ethel Wickes, Gertrude Stefens, Cora Miller and Pearl Tinney. Mrs. Gray will be a candidate for election as grand inside sentinel.

The parlor opened nominations in preparation for the regular election of officers. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

"Deacon" Jones Attains Rank Of Grandfather

If you have noticed that E. E. "Deacon" Jones, of Smith Flat, has been walking about with his chest thrown forward and stepping a little more lively than usual, here's the reason.

A birth certificate of record Wednesday morning at the courthouse reveals the birth of a son, Edward R. Jones, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Jones, at Placerville Sanatorium on May 11th.

The babe's parents make their home at Reno, where the new "Daddy" is lineman with the telephone company.

We are all glad to hear H. Schutje is getting along so well with his broken arm. He worked for several years at the Mountain Copper Mine and after leaving here went to work

As a candidate for the office of State Senator I was to speak at Pollock Pines school May 10, on: Public Utilities, War, Unemployment. The trustees had been contacted and I personally saw the principal and superintendent of schools. I asked trustee Cox to open the building and he refused, thus depriving me of its use without advance notice. The state law makes it mandatory that trustees permit the use of schools for such purposes. I understand that after I left the doors were opened.
